About Us

Plus Recruitment is nurse-led and provides nursing care and other healthcare professionals nationwide to NHS hospitals and privately funded organisations.

We view success as building a network of healthcare professionals all around the UK that have the same goal to make a difference to the lives of our clients. Our quality is heavily dependent on the people we choose to carry out our services. They must be compassionate in their role, reliable and will have experience in the healthcare industry.

In order to ensure quality services we recognize that as an employer, we must do our part by giving them work that will give them career satisfaction in order for them to bring out their best in any work assignment they undertake.

Join our team today

Plus Recruitment aims to provide a quality service to clients through the provision of highly qualified and competent registered nurses and healthcare assistants. It is for this reason that we strive to exceed the minimum statutory recruitment and selection standards required of healthcare workers.

Our recruitment process includes a personal interview in person or virtual interview with our dedicated team of recruiters. The my are responsible for checking qualifications, experience and competency, a review of current health and immunisations records and enhanced disclosures.

Our team of recruiters interview applicants across the country and apply a strict set of criteria to ensure workers are experienced and adaptable to clients needs.
